The Tar Heels entered the 2009-10 season by hanging a national championship banner, but minus the majority of scoring, rebounding and experience that helped win Carolina's fifth NCAA Tournament title. Inexperience, injuries and lack of quality execution subsequently led to a 20-17 record, a first round exit in the ACC Tournament and a trip to the NIT.

Seniors Deon Thompson and Marcus Ginyard helped UNC reach the NIT championship game, but this year's Tar Heel squad has its eyes set on returning to the NCAA Tournament, where Carolina has won a record 102 games in 41 appearances.

"At this time last year I saw more than one big hole and that's why I thought the expectations some people had for us were so unrealistic," says Hall of Fame head coach Roy Williams. "This year we have one big hole and that's depth – we only have 10 scholarship players. We have some guys who can shoot the ball from the outside and we have more experience in the backcourt and on the whole team. We have a few guys who have been in there in crunch time, guys who have been asked to make a difference before. This year our biggest question is will we be able to get by with only three post players."

The 2010-11 Tar Heels feature a graduate student in his first year with the program, three juniors, three sophomores and three freshmen, seven of whom have combined to make 104 college starts.

"Larry Drew II, Dexter Strickland and Leslie McDonald all have experience that a year ago they did not," says Williams about three returning guards. "We have so much more experience in the backcourt than we did last year. In 2006, I expected Tyler Hansbrough's class to do big things as freshmen. Last year I was hoping to get big things from the freshmen but I was not expecting it. The two guys – Strickland and John Henson – who had the most ink written about them were both learning a new position, so I was concerned about that. However, with a year under their belts Dexter, Leslie and John should perform at a much higher level. And I am very confident that three freshmen are going to be big-time players for us."

Tyler Zeller, a 7-0, 250-pound junior from Washington, Ind., averaged 9.3 points and 4.6 rebounds last season, but missed 10 key ACC games due to fractured bone in his right foot. He scored a career-best 18 points against Marshall, had 16 points versus Texas and was UNC's defensive player of the game seven times. Williams is expecting Zeller, who trained with the USA Basketball Team in the summer, to have a big junior season.

"I've told 'Z' now is the time for you to be a big-time player for us," says Williams. "We don't just want you to do big things, we need you to do big things. He's going to relish that opportunity. Tyler can really run the floor – maybe as well as any big guy I've ever had. That helps our fast break put pressure on their big guys to run back so they tend not to go to their offensive boards as much. He has ability on the block to turn and score over people or get fouled. And one thing he hasn't shown yet but that he will is his ability to shoot the ball from the outside. Defensively, he can block shots and has great size that can bother shots."

Larry Drew II started all but one game at the point last year and was tied for second in the ACC in assists with 6.0 per game on a team that scored just 74.5 points a game. He had 18 points in wins over Michigan State and at NC State and was second on the team with 38 three-point field goals. He averaged 9.2 points during the NIT and played a key role in road wins at Mississippi State and UAB.

Drew II averaged 10.2 points, shot 51.2 percent from the floor and had an assist-turnover ratio of 2.46 in Carolina's 20 wins, and 6.5 points, 29.9 percent from the floor and a ratio of 1.35 in the 17 losses.

"Larry's good games were really good but he wasn't consistent," says Williams. "There was too much variety from his good games to other games. He can't have those wide swings. Still he had 222 assists really with no great offensive players on the floor. Ty Lawson had 260 assists the year before with maybe the greatest array of offensive talent I ever coached. Larry had 222 assists on a team that didn't run very well, didn't shoot very well and he got no easy assists. This year we will be more offensive-minded, now it's his job to drastically cut down on his turnovers and make better decision on when to pass, when to shoot and when to drive the ball.

"Larry was unfairly maligned last year for too many of our problems, but I expect him to have a much better season because he has every tool that he needs to be successful."

Henson, a 6-10 sophomore from Tampa, Fla., has added at least 15 pounds since the start of last season and will be one of just three post players. He began his freshman year at small forward, but shifted to the '4' in February after a series of injuries to Carolina's post players. Henson played his best basketball late in the year, averaging 9.4 points over the last 16 games and grabbing double-digit rebounds five times in the last dozen contests. He blocked 60 shots, fourth-most in the ACC. Typical of his late-season surge was a nine-point, 12-rebound, five-block performance in Carolina's win at Wake Forest.

"John was excited about getting back inside and doing some things closer to the basket," says Williams. "Last year taught him a lot about his game – both early in the season when he struggled and then at the end because it gave him some confidence. He has tremendous ability and is only going to get better and better as he gains strength and experience."

Sophomore guard Dexter Strickland averaged 17 minutes a game and scored 12 points against Texas and added nine in the win over Michigan State. The Rahway, N.J., native had 71 assists and 61 turnovers for the year and shot 43.2 percent from the floor, numbers he must improve on this season.

"Dexter can play both guard spots and he's much more comfortable now at the point," says Williams. "That was a new position for him last year. I knew it would take some time. He understands he has to be more in control but I don't want him to forget the gifts he has – don't forget to use the speed he has. When Dexter realizes what his speed can do for him and how to control it, knowing when to turn it on and off, he's going to become a really good player."

Sophomore wing Leslie McDonald had a season-high 16 points in the win at Wake Forest and added seven key first-half points in the NIT win at Mississippi State. The Memphis, Tenn., native struggled from three-point range, connecting on just 11 of 53 for the season, a figure Williams expects McDonald to improve on this year.

"Leslie is going to shoot a much better percentage this year because he is going to be so much more comfortable," says Williams. "He can be a good defensive player, as well. He showed flashes of that, but we need him to give us more on both ends of the floor."

Junior wing Justin Watts (Durham, N.C.) played in 23 games last year and made two mid-season starts.

"Justin injured his ankle in the Bahamas in August," says Williams. "We need him to get healthy. I expect and need him to be a defensive stopper. He's going to make some shots and get some offensive rebounds, but if he can accept that role on defense then he will get extra playing time."

Joining Zeller and Henson up front is Justin Knox, a 6-9 forward from Tuscaloosa, Ala., who graduated in three years from the University of Alabama. He played three years for the Crimson Tide, including last year when he averaged 6.3 points. He scored a career-high 17 points against South Carolina and started 48 times over the last two seasons.

Peyton Williams

"It's going to be strange because I've never coached him for one play," says Williams. "So he's a little like a freshman, except my gosh he's already played three years of college basketball. I've watched tape, I've talked to people about him and I've talked to him, but I don't know what he's going to be able to do until we get him out there. Our style of play will give him more opportunities to score than he's ever had and I know he's looking forward to that."

The Tar Heels should get a spark from freshmen Harrison Barnes, Reggie Bulloek and Kendall Marshall.

Barnes, a 6-8 forward from Ames, Iowa, was USA Today's 2010 High School Player of the Year and earned MVP honors at three postseason all-star games. He led Ames High School to back-to-back undefeated seasons and averaged 27.1 points and 10.4 rebounds as a senior.

"Our players already have a tremendous amount of respect for Harrison," says Williams. "He has impressed the upperclassmen more than any freshman I have ever been around. Other than Tyler Hansbrough, I have never been around someone who is as focused, driven and disciplined than Harrison. That's even more impressive than his talents and he has remarkable talents.

"On the court he does everything pretty well right now. At times he can shoot the diekens out of the ball. When he gets to where that is truly a huge factor, then other people are going to have problems. He's worked hard over the last year in putting the ball on the floor and taking it to the basket."

Bullock, a 6-5 ½ wing from Kinston, N.C., earned first-team Parade All-America honors and was the AP and Gatorade Player of the Year in North Carolina last year. He led Kinston to a pair of state championships.

"Reggie is going to be a great player at North Carolina," says Williams. "He can score and defend and he has a wonderful attitude. He's the kind of kid you want to be around and he's going to get better because he's hungry and he's gifted."

Marshall, a 6-3 point guard from Dumfries, Va., earned third-team Parade and USA Today All-America honors as a senior. He led Bishop O'Connell High School in Arlington, Va., to the 2010 Virginia Independent Schools Division I championship.

"Kendall is a true quarterback," says Williams. "He has a tremendous ability to lead on the floor and think the game while he is playing and make good decisions. We have to get him up to speed defensively and how much bigger, faster, stronger the game is at this level."

For the first time since his second year at Kansas, Williams is coaching a team that did not make the NCAA Tournament the previous season. But that doesn't deter him from setting his standards high.

"Our goal is simply to be the best we can possibly be. If we can come close to that, then we can be one of the teams that can win the whole blessed thing. That's my challenge and that's the players' challenge. Right now I think the players are more focused than they were a year ago and that focus is on the team doing well."

In seven years as North Carolina's head coach, Roy Williams has directed the Tar Heels to unprecedented heights of success, a remarkable run even for one of the most historic programs in college basketball.

The Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame member has led Carolina to two national championships, three Final Fours, four Elite Eights, four NCAA Tournament No. 1 seeds, five Associated Press Top 10 final rankings, four Atlantic Coast Conference regular-season titles, two ACC Tournament crowns, four 30-win seasons and nine first-round NBA draft picks.

ESPN, Sports Illustrated, The Sporting News and Fox Sports named the Asheville, N.C., native the Coach of the Decade for 2000-2009. Williams led Kansas and Carolina to 33 NCAA Tournament wins in the 2000s, eight more than any other coach.

Williams is one of only 11 coaches in NCAA history to lead his teams to the NCAA Tournament 20 or more times and he has the second-highest winning percentage (75.3) among those elite coaches.

Over the last nine years, Williams has won 259 games, second-most in the country, and coached four National Players of the Year. He won 30 NCAA Tournament games and led Kansas and UNC to the Final Four five times. That's more NCAA Tournament victories and more Final Fours than any coach in the nation. In that span (2002-2010) no other coach won more than 21 NCAA Tournament games.

On Nov. 29, 2009, Carolina beat Nevada for Williams's 600th win. No other coach in NCAA history had won 600 games in fewer than 24 seasons and his winning percentage of 79.8 is the third-highest after 22 years as a head coach.

On April 6, 2009, the Tar Heels beat Michigan State to capture UNC's second NCAA Tournament title in the last five years. In 2005, Carolina beat top-ranked Illinois to win Williams' first national title. He is one of 13 coaches to win multiple national championships, joining an illustrious list that includes only two other ACC coaches – Dean Smith and Duke's Mike Krzyzewski.

In 2010, The Sporting News surveyed a panel of 50 former ACC standout players and asked them which current ACC coach they would want to play for other than their alma mater's – Williams received 19 votes. No other coach received more than 8.5 votes.

His Tar Heel teams have a 196-54 mark and set UNC records for most wins for one year (36 in 2007-08), two years (70 in 2008-09), three years (101 from 2007-09), four years (124 from 2006-09), five years (157 from 2005-09) and six years (176 from 2004-09).

At Carolina, Williams has coached two National Players of the Year (Sean May in 2005, Tyler Hansbrough in 2008), two Bob Cousy Award recipients as the best point guard in the country (Raymond Felton in 2005, Ty Lawson in 2009), two ACC Players of the Year (Hansbrough in 2008, Lawson in 2009), two ACC Athletes of the Year (May in 2005, Hansbrough in 2008), three ACC Rookies of the Year (Marvin Williams in 2005, Hansbrough in 2006, Brandan Wright in 2007), two Final Four MOPs (May in 2005, Wayne Ellington in 2009) and 12 NBA Draft picks.

Hansbrough set the all-time ACC scoring record and became the first player in league history to earn first-team All-America and first-team All-ACC honors in each of his four seasons. He also became Carolina's all-time leading rebounder and set the NCAA record for made free throws.

Williams has a 614-155 record in 22 seasons as a college head coach. His winning percentage of 79.8 is the highest among active coaches with 20 years experience and the fifth-best in history. He has the third-highest winning percentage in NCAA Tournament history (75.3) among coaches whose teams have played at least 30 games.

Williams is one of the most accomplished coaches in college basketball. His ledger includes:

• 418 wins at Kansas and 196 at Carolina, the second-most at each school behind Phog Allen and Smith, respectively

Dan Wetzel, national columnist for Yahoo! Sports, wrote in April

2009: "There isn't a more perfect union in college basketball than Roy and Carolina; the ideal combination of style and substance, recruiting might and coaching acumen, of championships won and won and, most certainly, won again."

In February 2009, Forbes named Williams the best basketball coach in the country, choosing him by analyzing win-loss percentages, NCAA Tournament appearances, Final Fours, national championships and recruiting.

Forbes wrote: "A top-notch recruiter and motivator, Williams coaches with an unflappable cool, a trait reflected in his players' calm on the court."

Williams' ability to relate to players and their families, both in the recruiting process and throughout their careers, is something his players speak of when they account for his success.

On March 8, 2009, Senior Day at Carolina, an emotional Hansbrough thanked Williams for living up to a promise Williams made during his recruitment that the coach would always be honest with him.

"He always tells you the straight up truth about what you need to hear, not just what you want to hear," says Hansbrough. "That helped me not only as a player but also as a person."

Williams is one of nine Tar Heels to be enshrined in the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, joining a group that includes Dean Smith, Michael Jordan, Larry Brown, Billy Cunningham, James Worthy and Bob McAdoo. Twenty-three of his former players from Carolina and Kansas joined him in Springfield, Mass., for the induction ceremony in 2007.

From 2007-2009 Carolina went 101-14, winning 21 more games than any other ACC school. Over the last six seasons, Carolina went 33-15 in ACC road games.

The 2009 Tar Heels won their fourth ACC regular-season title in the last five years, won their fourth straight game at Duke and landed a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament for the third consecutive year. In the NCAA Tournament, Carolina put on a stunning display, winning six games by an average of 20.2 points, the highest margin in 13 years. UNC became the first team to win all six games by a dozen or more points.

UNC led the nation in winning percentage (89.5) and scoring margin (+17.8) and was second in scoring (89.9 ppg). That was the seventh time in eight years his teams had finished in the top four nationally in scoring (first in 2002 and 2005, second in 2007, 2008 and 2009, third in 2003 and fourth in 2004). His teams have averaged 84.3 points at UNC with the Tar Heels reaching 100 or more points 36 times.

His teams have finished in the Top 10 nationally in scoring 10 times, in scoring margin 15 times, in field goal percentage 12 times, in win-loss percentage 10 times and in field goal defense four times. Also, his squads have finished in the top seven nationally in assists per game in seven of the last nine years and in the top eight nationally in rebounding margin in 10 of the last 14 years.

In 2008, Williams led the Tar Heels to a school-record 36 wins, ACC regular-season and Tournament titles and a berth in the Final Four with a win over Louisville in the regional final. Hansbrough won every major National Player of the Year award. He is the fourth to play for Williams – along with Jayhawks Drew Gooden and Nick Collison and UNC's Sean May – to win National Player of the Year honors since 2002.

The 2005 national championship capped a season in which the Tar Heels went 33-4, including a 14-2 mark in the ACC. Carolina led the nation in scoring average, scoring margin and assists and became the third team in history to lead the nation in scoring and win the NCAA championship.

In 2006, Carolina faced the loss of its top seven scorers, which was unprecedented in ACC history. Sports Illustrated predicted Carolina would miss the NCAA Tournament and the Tar Heels were picked by the media to finish sixth in the ACC. However, Williams earned National and ACC Coach of the Year honors by leading the youngest team in Carolina history to a second-place ACC finish, a win at top-ranked Duke and a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament.

Williams became the UNC head coach on April 14, 2003, 10 days after leading Kansas to the NCAA championship game against Syracuse.

Williams was assistant coach at Carolina from 1978-88. Working for Dean Smith, he helped coach such standouts as Mike O'Koren, Al Wood, James Worthy, Sam Perkins, Matt Doherty, Michael Jordan, Brad Daugherty, Kenny Smith, Joe Wolf, Steve Hale, Jeff Lebo, J.R. Reid and Scott Williams.

Carolina won the NCAA title in 1982, finished second in 1981 and won or shared six ACC regular-season titles and three ACC Tournament championships.

Kansas hired Williams on July 8, 1988, replacing another UNC Hall of Famer, Larry Brown. Williams coached a number of the finest Kansas players in history, including Mark Randall, Adonis Jordan, Rex Walters, Greg Ostertag, Scot Pollard, Jacque Vaughn, Raef LaFrentz, Paul Pierce, Drew Gooden, Nick Collison and Kirk Hinrich.

The Jayhawks averaged 27.9 wins per season with a high of 35 in 1997-98. He also won 30 in 1989-90, 34 in 1996-97, 33 in 2001-02 and 30 in 2002-03. The Jayhawks reached the Sweet 16 nine times and the Final Eight on five occasions.

In seven years of Big 12 Conference play, his teams went 94-18, capturing the regular-season title in 1997, 1998, 2002 and 2003 and the postseason tournament crown in 1997, 1998 and 1999. In 2001-02, KU became the first Big 12 team to go 16-0 in league play. From 1995-98, Kansas was a combined 123-17 – an average of 30.8 wins per season. The Jayhawks went 201-17 (92.2) in Allen Fieldhouse, and won 62 consecutive games in Allen from February 1994 to December 1998.

Williams has coached players to 25 first-team all-conference honors, including eight UNC selections. Seven players – five Jayhawks, Hansbrough and Lawson – have won conference player of the year honors.

Hansbrough and Lawson earned first-team All-America honors in 2009. That marked the 12th and 13th first-team All-America seasons by Williams's players.

Gooden (2002), Collison (2003), May (2005) and Hansbrough (2008) won National Player of the Year honors and LaFrentz (1997 and 1998), Pierce (1998), Gooden (2002), Collison (2003) and Hansbrough (2007, 2008 and 2009) have earned consensus first-team All-America honors.

The NBA has selected 20 of his players in the first round, including Hansbrough (13th), Lawson (18th) and Ellington (28th) in 2009 and Ed Davis (13th) in 2010. In 2005, UNC became the first program to have four players chosen in the NBA Lottery.

Williams emphasizes academic development, as well. Every Carolina senior in his tenure has either received his degree or is on track to do so. Sean May, the 2005 Final Four MVP, entered the NBA Draft after his junior year but later earned his degree. Marvin Williams, who went to the NBA in 2005 after just one season, has taken summer classes in Chapel Hill each year since and is a junior in academic standing.

Three players have earned first-team Academic All-America honors – Vaughn (twice), Haase and Ryan Robertson – and 35 have earned first-team academic all-conference honors, including Tyler Zeller.

He's the best there is."

• Tyler Zeller has been named to the ACC All-Academic Team in every year of his career.

• In May 2010 the NCAA honored the Carolina's men's basketball team for having an Academic Progress Rate in the top 10 percent nationally. The Tar Heels scored a perfect 1,000 APR in 2008-09 and had the highest APR in the ACC for the four-year period from 2005-06 to 2008-09.

• U.S. News & World Report has consistently ranked UNC in the top five nationally among public universities and in the top 30 of all colleges.

• In 2009, Chapel Hill was ranked America's "Smartest College Town" by TheDailyBeast.com, which praised Carolina's business and medical schools. Chapel Hill has the highest percentage in the nation of adults over age 25 with graduate degrees (44 percent).

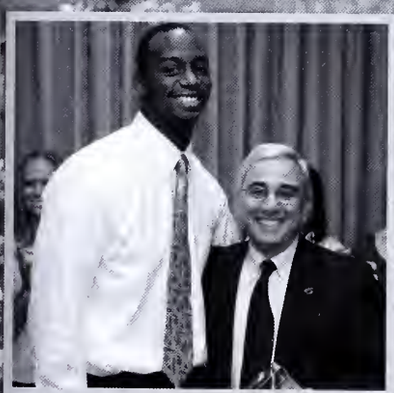
• UNC has ranked first in Kiplinger's Personal Finance magazine's survey of schools that "deliver strong academics at affordable prices" every year since 1998. The magazine calls Carolina "an academic superstar that competes with the Ivies."

2009 NCAA Champions at Commencement

ACADEMIC AND ON-COURT NATIONAL CHAMPIONS: The website "Inside Higher Ed" filled out a 2009 NCAA Tournament bracket based on the NCAA's APR ratings, and Carolina was declared champion.

"For a long time, Carolina basketball has represented the idea that you can win, and you can win big, and you can win big with kids who graduate and do it within the rules. It's a program that reflects well not just on the school and the conference but on the sport itself. Carolina basketball shows that big-time sports can work. It has been a model program and it continues to be a model program."

- Jim Delany, (UNC '70 and commissioner of the Big Ten Conference)



Marcus Ginyard, with A.D. Dick Baddour, was a recipient of the Carolina Leadership Academy's highest honor.

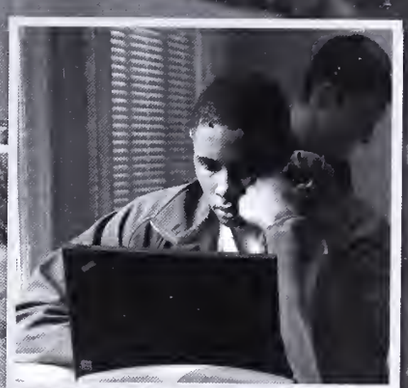
"I absolutely believe that what I learned as a Carolina basketball player is transferrable to the business world. When I became CEO, we did a lot of leadership training. In that training I talked a good deal about the values of the Carolina program, and about what I learned and how I apply it to business. The discipline, values, teamwork and a lot of the organization can easily be applied to the business world from the culture that Coach Smith created and is still in practice at Carolina today."

- Bill Harrison (UNC '64), former CEO of JP Morgan/Chase

LEADERSHIP CAROLINA ACADEMY

As the nation's premier leadership development program in collegiate athletics, the Carolina Leadership Academy develops, challenges and supports student-athletes, coaches and staff in their continual quest to become world class leaders in athletics, academics and life.

Carolina Student-Athlete Center for Excellence



In May of 2010, the University of North Carolina Board of Trustees approved the Carolina Student-Athlete Center for Excellence, a five-story privately financed structure that will be built in Kenan Stadium's east end zone to house the academic support-center for student-athletes, the Carolina Leadership Academy, Olympic sports' strength and conditioning center, visiting locker room, club seats and individual suites.

Construction began immediately on the project that is expected to take roughly 15 months to complete in time for the start of the 2011 football season. The Center for Excellence will replace the Kenan Fieldhouse, which was built in 1927.

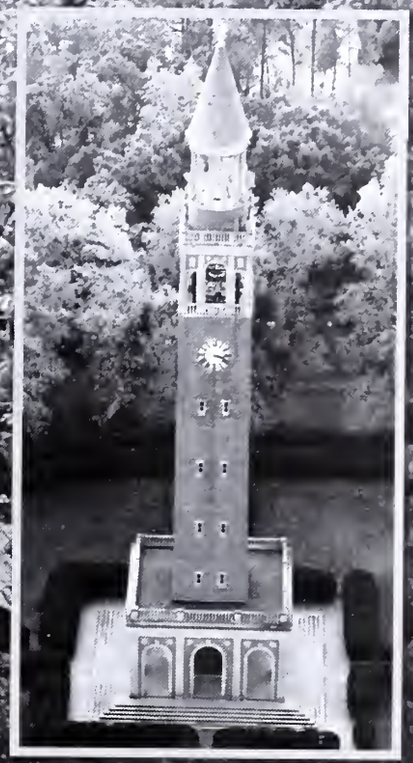
Nearly 80 percent of the first-year students were in the top 10 percent of their high school classes; almost 44 percent were among the top 10 students in their graduating classes. In all, Carolina enrolled 17,981 undergraduates. Total enrollment is currently 28,916.

• Carolina's 273,684 alumni live in all 50 states and 152 countries. More than 147,800 of those alumni live in all 100 North Carolina counties.



I'M A TAR HEEL. It's a simple statement—a phrase that can mean something different for each person who says it. Underlying it is a thread common to each member of the Carolina Family. That underlying thread is the commitment each Tar Heel has to do things the Carolina Way—with great integrity, a dedication to fellow Tar Heels, an unwavering loyalty to Carolina, and a commitment to excellence.

The Carolina Way also entails a commitment to excellence—a commitment that is unrivaled elsewhere. It is evident in Carolina's 37 team national championships, 54 individual national championships, and numerous conference titles. It is evident in the classroom as Carolina boasts an outstanding 85 percent graduation rate among student-athletes. It is evident in the community as Tar Heel student-athletes and staff performed more than 20,000 hours of community service last year.

THE RAMS CLUB

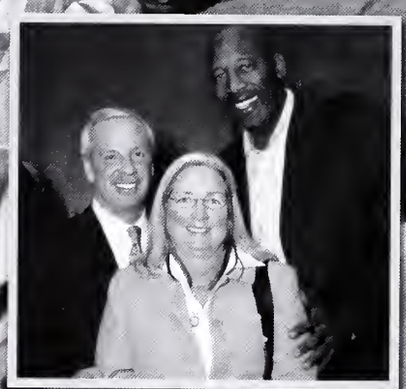
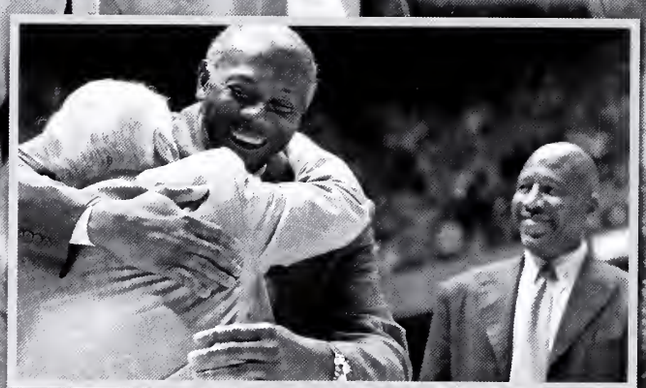
CAROLINA FAMILY

ONCE A TAR HEEL, ALWAYS A TAR HEEL



"What's unique is the unity and the bond established in the short time you are at the University. It's a family atmosphere. You find yourself taking care of family members. It's hard for people outside of that to understand, but as long as people within understand it's something we cherish, no matter what happens to us or where we go. You will always cherish that relationship from the University of North Carolina."

- Michael Jordan



"I'm thankful that I can look back over my four years and I have 30 brothers that I can count on when I need them. But what is special about that, relative to other programs, is not only do I have the guys I played with that I consider brothers, but I can talk to somebody who played 30 years before me or 20 years after me, and we still have that same bond."

- Jeff Denny (UNC '90)

"Carolina gets in your blood. You see all the former guys coming back, and you want to be a part of that. It just seems like something you're supposed to do as a Carolina guy, and no matter how long you stay in school, you always look forward to coming back. In the NBA, Carolina guys look after each other. We're part of each others' lives."

- Vince Carter (UNC '01), Orlando Magic, eight-time NBA All-Star

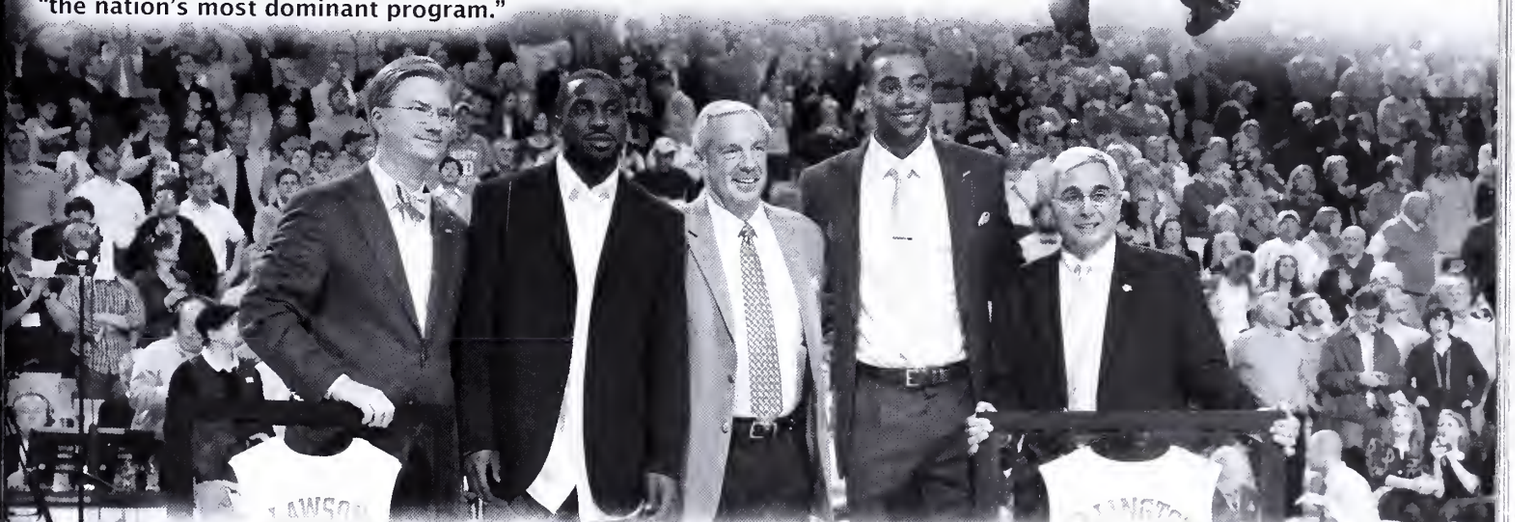
New York Daily News
April 7, 2009

• Carolina topped Forbes magazine's March 2010 rankings of the 20 most valuable teams in college basketball, based on the program's $17.7 million profit for the 2008-09 season, which was 70 percent higher, on average, than the rest of the top 20.

• In late 2009, Sports Illustrated and Fox named Tyler Hansbrough the top player and Roy Williams the best men's basketball coach of the 2000s decade. SI.com chose Williams eighth overall among coaches in all sports for the decade and ESPN named Carolina the program of the decade. The Tar Heels went to four Final Fours and won two NCAA titles in the 2000s.

• The Nov. 2009 issue of ESPN the Magazine polled 100 Division I men's basketball players. North Carolina was the overwhelming favorite as the "Best Program in the Country," winning 62 percent of the vote. The rest of the top five — Duke (nine percent), Kentucky (seven), Kansas (five) and UCLA (four) — combined for 25 percent of the votes.

• Sports Illustrated picked the best 25 sports franchises from the 2000s in Dec. 2009 and chose Carolina as its top men's basketball team. The magazine called UNC "the nation's most dominant program."



"Simply put, North Carolina has everything you want in a basketball program: tradition, historical success, current success, an enormous and passionate fan base, quality facilities, complete national recruiting reach and a Hall of Fame coach who already has won a national title at the school."

UNC ATHLETICS ADMINISTRATION

HOLDEN THORP
CHANCELLOR

At Carolina, Holden Thorp has been an undergraduate student, a chemistry professor, a planetarium director, an inventor and entrepreneur, as well as a dean. He graduated with honors, won teaching awards, led a powerhouse chemistry department, developed technology for electronic DNA chips, founded spin-off companies, and succeeded as an administrator.

Now, as the 10th chancellor, Thorp draws from all of those experiences in leading Carolina, which is among the great research universities in the United States and the world.

"Carolina students are inspired to tackle the greatest problems facing the world."
— Holden Thorp

A North Carolina native, Thorp grew up in Fayetteville in a family steeped in Carolina traditions dating to the 1800s. When graduation from Terry Sanford High School approached, there was only one school on his college application list – UNC. He earned a bachelor of science degree with honors in 1986.

Attending a world-class research university – where research and teaching are done by the same people – gave Thorp opportunities to work in chemistry labs with some of UNC's best faculty. Those experiences inspired him to become a professor. He pursued that dream at the California Institute of Technology, where he earned a doctorate in chemistry in 1989, and at Yale University for postgraduate work. After teaching a year at NC State, he returned to UNC in 1993.

Before becoming chancellor in 2008, Thorp served a year as dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. He chaired the chemistry department, led a $17 million fundraising effort for the Carolina Physical Science Complex as faculty director and was director of the Morehead Planetarium and Science Center.

An accomplished musician who plays jazz bass and keyboard, Thorp is married to Patti Worden Thorp, a Hope Mills native and UNC Greensboro graduate. Their children are John and Emma.

DICK BADDOUR
ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Goldsboro native and Tar Heel alumnus Dick Baddour is in his 14th year as Director of Athletics and his 44th at the University of North Carolina. He directs one of the most successful and respected programs in the country, known for its commitment to academic integrity and competitive excellence in men's and women's sports.

Under his direction, the Tar Heels have won 13 national championships, including seven in women's soccer, three in field hockey, two in men's basketball and one in men's soccer, won two football bowl games and had numerous Top 10 national finishes in Olympic Sports. Nineteen UNC men's and women's teams have combined for 62 ACC championships, more than any other school in that time. UNC has led the league in the number of team championships seven times.

Last year, the Tar Heels finished seventh nationally in the Learfield Directors Cup. The seventh-place finish in the Directors Cup marked the eighth top 10 finish by the Tar Heels in the last nine years, including top four showings in 2006, 2007 and 2009. By comparison, the other 11 ACC schools have combined for eight top 10 finishes in the 17-year history of the Directors Cup.

Academically, 23 of Carolina's sports exceeded the national average in the NCAA's Academic Progress Rating.

Baddour began his UNC career in 1967 as assistant dean of men. He spent 11 years as John Swofford's top assistant before being named the Director of Athletics on June 25, 1997.

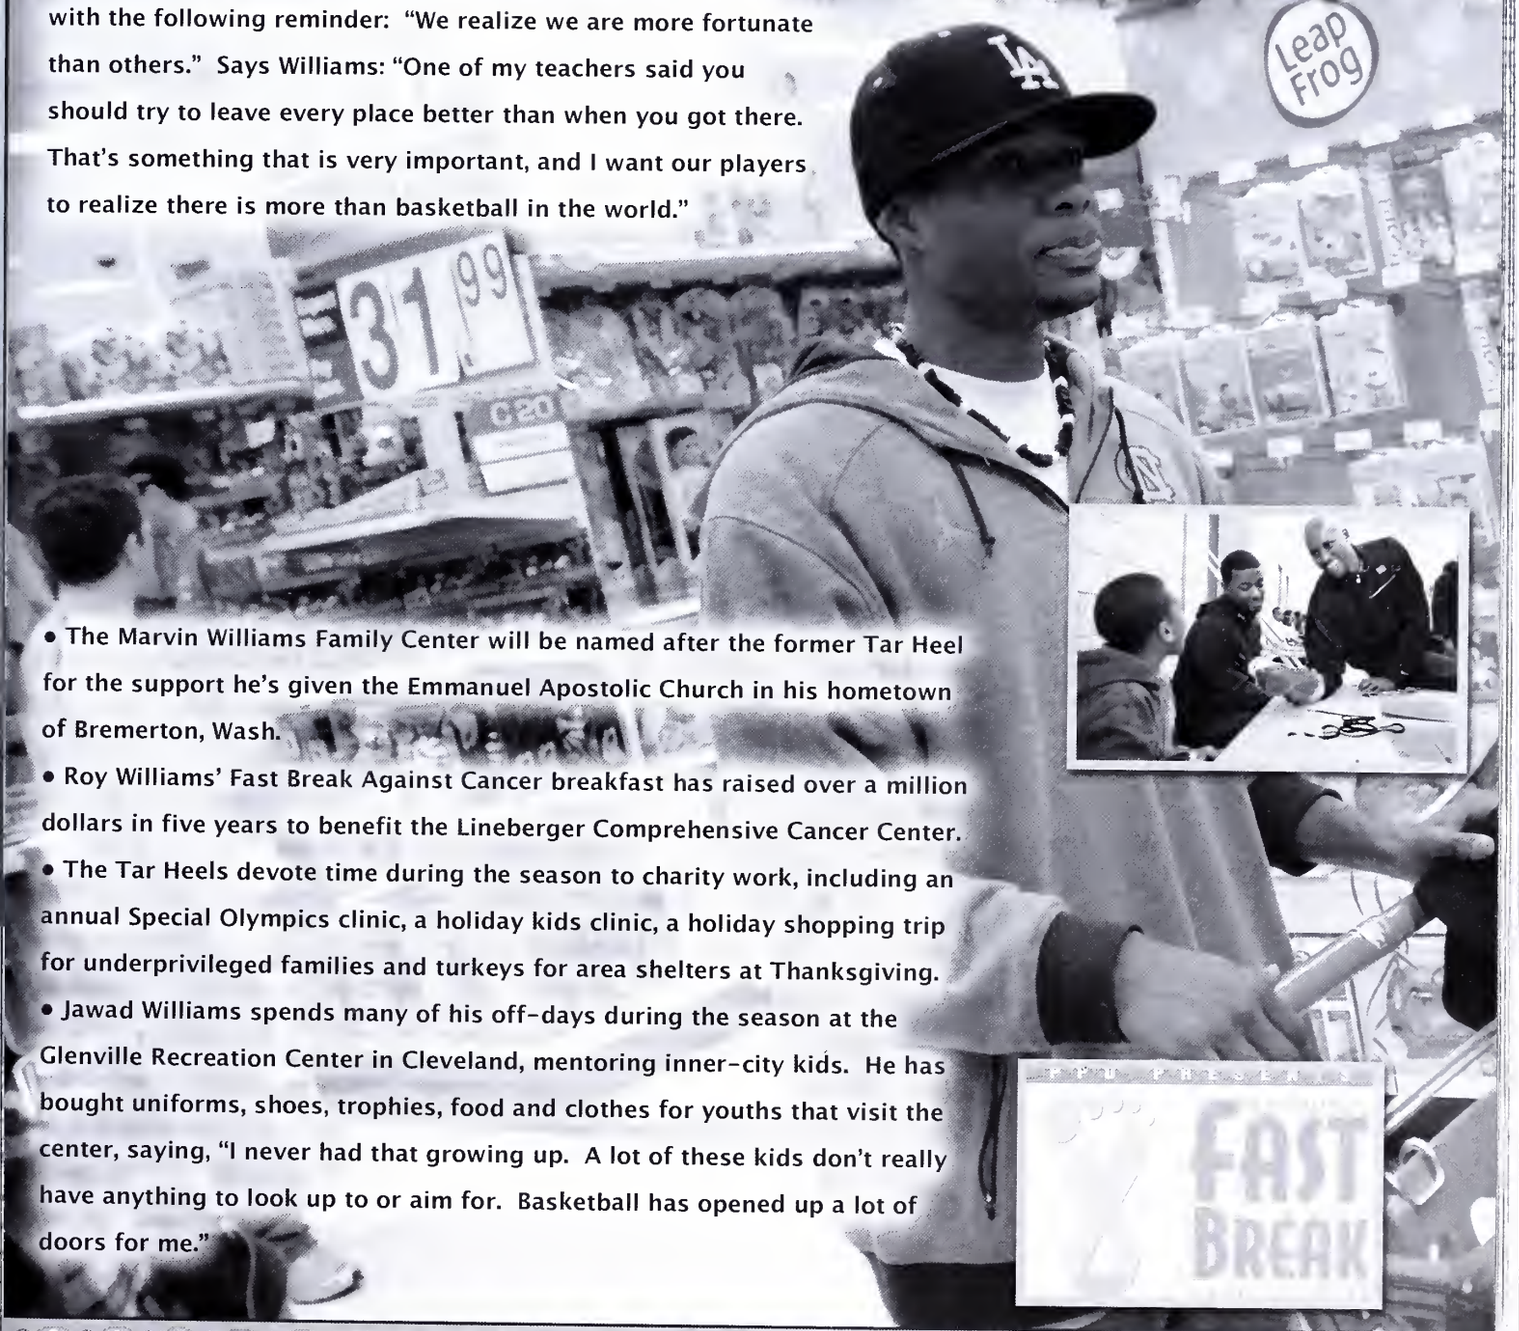
CAROLINA IN THE COMMUNITY

THE TAR HEELS GIVE BACK

Head coach Roy Williams closes every postgame team prayer with the following reminder: "We realize we are more fortunate than others." Says Williams: "One of my teachers said you should try to leave every place better than when you got there. That's something that is very important, and I want our players to realize there is more than basketball in the world."



- The Marvin Williams Family Center will be named after the former Tar Heel for the support he's given the Emmanuel Apostolic Church in his hometown of Bremerton, Wash.
- Roy Williams' Fast Break Against Cancer breakfast has raised over a million dollars in five years to benefit the Lineberger Comprehensive Cancer Center.
- The Tar Heels devote time during the season to charity work, including an annual Special Olympics clinic, a holiday kids clinic, a holiday shopping trip for underprivileged families and turkeys for area shelters at Thanksgiving.
- Jawad Williams spends many of his off-days during the season at the Glenville Recreation Center in Cleveland, mentoring inner-city kids. He has bought uniforms, shoes, trophies, food and clothes for youths that visit the center, saying, "I never had that growing up. A lot of these kids don't really have anything to look up to or aim for. Basketball has opened up a lot of doors for me."

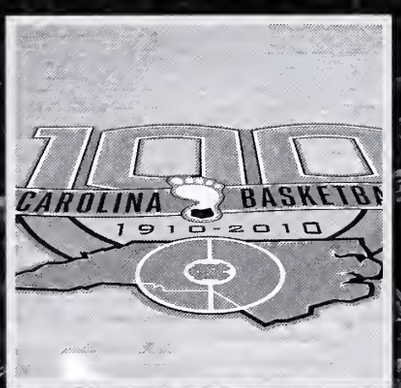
THE DEAN E. SMITH CENTER

AN OVER-THE-TOP ATMOSPHERE



The Tar Heels have ranked in the top five nationally in home attendance in 23 of the last 24 years. Nearly seven million fans have watched Carolina in the Smith Center.

"I think I've never been in a building that was as loud as that building."

– Ohio State head coach Thad Matta

"This is one heck of a homecourt advantage."

Connecticut head coach Jim Calhoun

Carolina students receive approximately 6,000 tickets for home games, more than at any other ACC school.

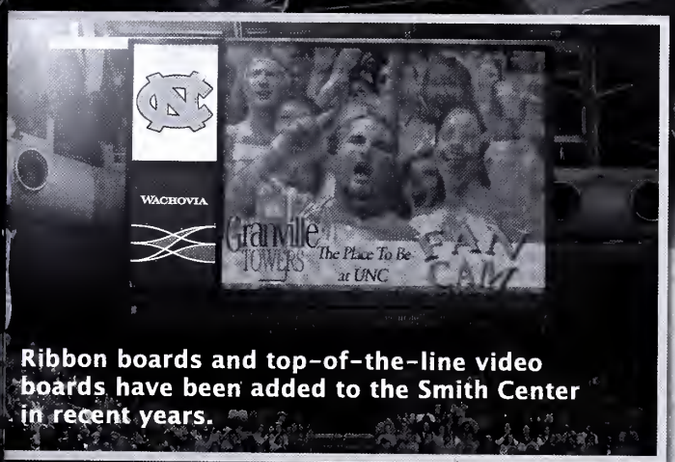
UNMATCHED FACILITIES

THE BEST OF EVERYTHING

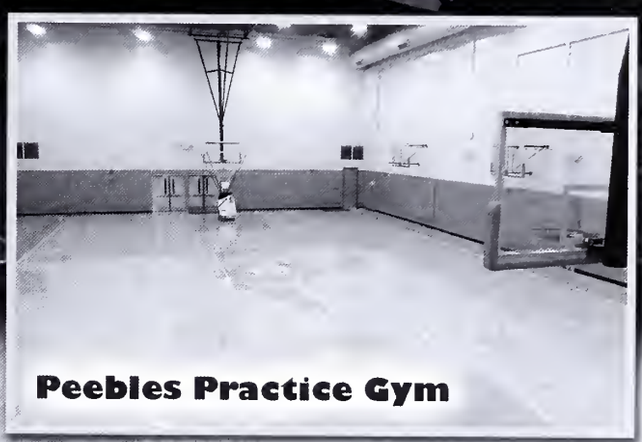
The Tar Heels receive top-notch training and instruction from strength & conditioning coordinator Jonas Sahratian, formerly of the NBA's Chicago Bulls. The weight room was expanded and remodeled in 2009.

A hydrotherapy area adjacent to the Tar Heel lockerroom enhances players' recovery and regeneration after practices and games. The area includes thermal and polar plunge pools that hold 750 gallons of water per pool.

The Players' Lounge

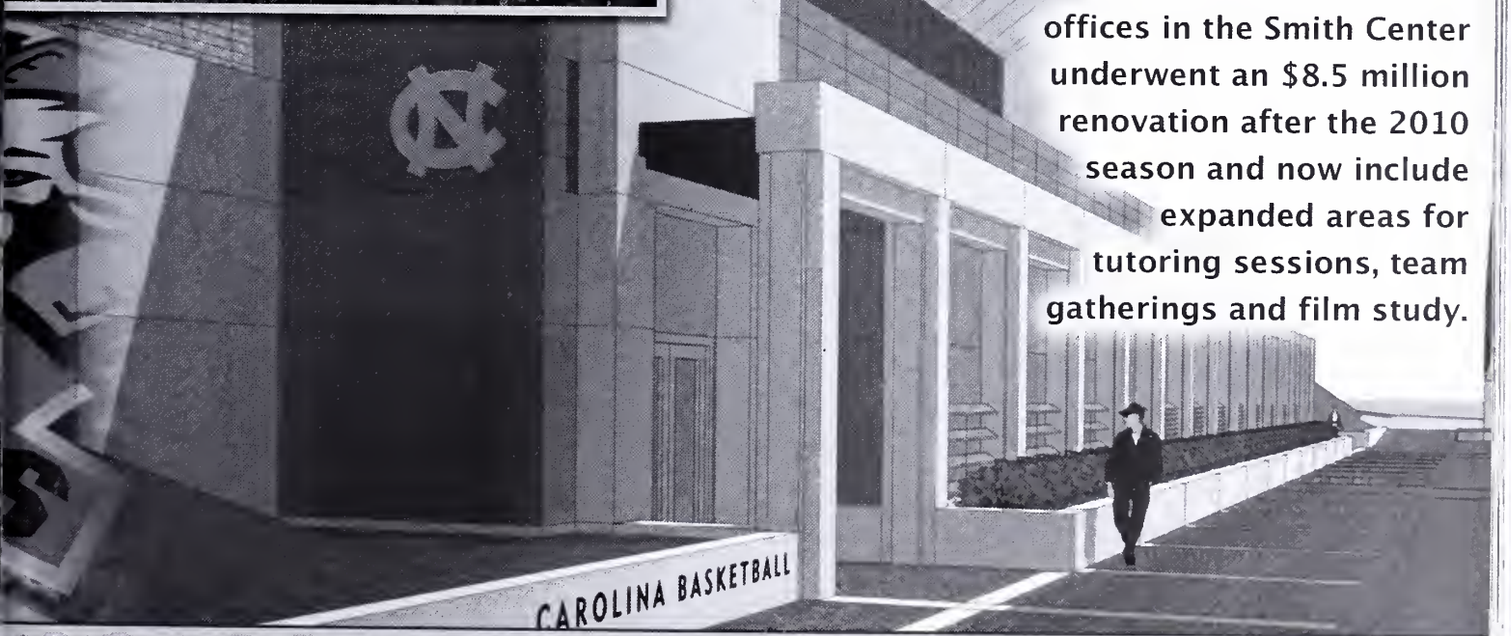


Ribbon boards and top-of-the-line video boards have been added to the Smith Center in recent years.



Peebles Practice Gym

The Carolina Basketball offices in the Smith Center underwent an $8.5 million renovation after the 2010 season and now include expanded areas for tutoring sessions, team gatherings and film study.



THE DEAN E. SMITH CENTER

Jeffrey Camarati

The 2010-11 season is the 26th in which the Tar Heels will play in the Dean E. Smith Center. UNC has played 348 games in the Smith Center in front of a combined audience of nearly seven million fans. Carolina is 292-56 in the Smith Center, an impressive winning mark of 83.9 percent.

The Tar Heels have been in the top five in the national attendance leaders in 23 of the last 24 seasons.

The first game in the Smith Center featured No. 1 Carolina defeating No. 3 Duke, 95-92, in a battle of unbeaten teams on Jan. 18, 1986. The first Tar Heel basket was scored by Carolina center Warren Martin off a pass from Kenny Smith.

The Tar Heels have a 97-15 record (86.6) in the Smith Center in Roy Williams' seven years as head coach. Dean Smith led the Tar Heels to a 133-17 record (88.7) in the building that bears his name.

RECENT RENOVATIONS

The Smith Center has undergone a number of improvements to keep it on the cutting edge of basketball arenas.

The men's basketball offices were completely renovated and expanded prior to the 2010-11 season while the team's varsity hallway also received a facelift.

The arena's lights and sound system were replaced and the training, weight and equipment rooms were expanded and renovated for 2009-10. A hydrotherapy room was added for the 2008-09 season.

In January 2008, the Carolina Basketball Museum opened in the new Williamson Athletics Center, adjacent to the Koury Natatorium. For photos and information about the museum, see CarolinaBasketballMuseum.com.

In 2006-07, the seats in the lower level and upper level ring were replaced. The playing floor was completely refinished and refurbished for the 2007-08 campaign.

Four high-resolution video boards were installed for the 2005-06 season. The boards measure 17.8 feet x 23.6 feet. At the same time, two 50-foot ribbon boards were added to the fascia around the upper level and a 40-foot video board was added to the front of the scorer's table.

In 2000-01, a standing-room-only section reserved for students opened on the baseline closest to the Carolina bench. The Rams Club funded a $150,000 renovation that allowed approximately 400 students to move courtside.

In May 1980, the Department of Athletics, in conjunction with the Educational Foundation, embarked on a mission to raise millions of dollars from private donations to construct an arena. The real inspiration for the fund-raising effort came from the campaign chairman, the late Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles.

Six years, 2,362 donors and over $34 million later, the premiere basketball arena in America became a reality. Dedicated in September 1986 as the Dean Edwards Smith Center, the 300,000-square-foot structure stands on seven and one-half acres of the University's south campus. Over 20,000 cubic yards of rock were removed to make room for the 340-foot-wide, 380-foot-long and 140-foot-high building.

"Every time I come in the Smith Center, I sneak a look up there every couple of minutes. I just have to make sure it's still up there, that the big number 33 is still hanging. When I see it up there, it takes me back to coming into Carolina with a bald head and a little mustache. Even at the time, you knew you were going to treasure those memories forever. When I was walking off the court the night of the alumni game (in 2009), I grabbed my son and took a second and pointed out that jersey with 'Jamison' on the banner. There are no words to describe what that felt like. I felt like I was showing him the past and the future all at the same time."

Kansas '53

✓ Smith retired with more wins (879) than any other coach in NCAA Division I history, a total since surpassed by Bob Knight.

✓ In 36 years, Smith coached Carolina to 11 Final Fours, two national titles and 13 ACC Tournament Championships.

✓ More than 95 percent of Smith's lettermen graduated.

✓ From 1981 to 1989, Carolina was ranked in the final Top 10 of both the Associated Press and coaches' poll each year.

✓ Smith was named the second-best coach in college basketball history (behind John Wooden) by the NABC in 2000.

✓ Smith was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass., in 1983. He was also inducted into the North Carolina Hall of Fame in 1981. In 2006, he was named to the inaugural class of the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame (along with James Naismith, John Wooden, Oscar Robertson and Bill Russell). He was inducted into the FIBA Hall of Fame in 2007.

✓ Smith was voted ACC Coach of the Year eight times - in 1967, 1968, 1971, 1976, 1977, 1979, 1988 and 1993.

When ESPN's award-winning SportsCentury program selected the greatest coaches of the 20th Century, it came as no surprise that Carolina basketball coach Dean Smith was among the top seven of all-time. Smith joined other legends Red Auerbach, Bear Bryant, George Halas, Vince Lombardi, John McGraw and John Wooden as the preeminent coaches in sports history.

Smith's tenure as Carolina's basketball coach from 1960-97 is a record of remarkable achievement and consistency. In 36 seasons at UNC, Smith's teams had a record of 879-254. When he retired, his teams had won more games than those of any other Division I men's basketball college coach in history, a record broken in 2007 by Bob Knight.

- Smith coached Carolina to the 1982 and 1993 NCAA championships and the 1971 NIT title.
- Under Smith, the Tar Heels won at least 20 games for 27 straight years and 30 of his final 31.
- The Tar Heels finished at least third in the ACC regular-season standings for 33 successive seasons.
- Carolina won 13 ACC Tournaments under Smith. Mike Krzyzewski of Duke ranks second in ACC Tournament titles with 12.
- His teams played in 11 Final Fours, second in number only to Wooden, who had 12 (Krzyzewski also has 11).
- Smith's teams made 23 consecutive appearances in the NCAA Tournament.

The awards and accolades continued to be given to Smith, even after he stepped down as Carolina's head coach on Oct. 9, 1997. He was named Sportsman of the Year by Sports Illustrated and received the Arthur Ashe Award for Courage at the ESPY Awards in '97. He was inducted into the FIBA Hall of Fame in 2007.

He's recognized throughout the sports world for his character, his innovations to the game and his ability to have established Carolina's program as one of the greatest in college basketball. Smith's players consistently produce on the floor, in the classroom and in life.

When Smith broke Rupp's record in 1997, his coaching peers had this to say:

John Wooden: "What's more impressive to me about Dean than the record is how good he is as a teacher of basketball. I've always said he's a better teacher of basketball than anyone else. I couldn't begin to teach players the things Dean has taught them.

I've admired him because there's more to him than just wins."

Bob Knight: "Let me say some things that he won't say. He's going to say an awful lot about teams and that's the way it should be. But let me put it in perspective. His being able to do that and do it at a single institution, do it through all the years without ever having a problem with any kind of recruiting violation or probation, is a very singular accomplishment in college basketball. I think it's a great achievement, indicative of a guy who really knows how to coach and has decided from day one that things are going to be done the absolute right way. He's not going to tell you, but just take my word for it. That's a great, great accomplishment for a coach."

Mike Krzyzewski: "It's singularly such a tremendous accomplishment. Whatever is written about him in a positive sense he justly deserves. I know he'll give credit, as we all would, to the players who have played for him, but in this situation the praise for him should rise well above that for the players who played for him."

Roy Williams: "He has a basketball program, he doesn't have a team. And when you have a program, you're concerned about the kids' entire lives, their entire existence ... and what they're going to do after they leave you and what kind of effect you can have on them as they mature."

Terry Holland: "He has been a target for all of us who coached in the ACC to shoot for. It is not always the most pleasant position to be in. The Carolina program was the measuring stick to everybody who came into the league. He has been willing to be the measuring stick. He helped create national exposure not only for North Carolina, but also for the other ACC teams as well and made us all improve our programs."

Perhaps his greatest form of praise on a worldwide level came when a group of his peers, including Hall of Fame coaches Henry Iba, Pete Newell and Auerbach, chose Smith to coach the U.S. Olympic basketball team in the 1976 Montreal Games. The Americans finished a controversial second to the Soviet Union at Munich in 1972. Smith was given the challenge of trying to develop a team to regain the Gold Medal against a group of improving international teams.

Smith molded a group of college all-stars into a cohesive unit during a few short weeks in that summer of 1976 and led them to the gold medal.

For Smith and his players, the word "class" applied to the team's exemplary sportsmanship on the court, to its excellent academic performance and to Smith's belief that basketball involves many complexities that must be learned over the course of time — that coaching and playing the game is a classroom situation in its own right.

Smith's teams won championships at every level. There were NCAA titles in 1982 and 1993 and the NIT in 1971. His gold medal-winning team at the 1976 Summer Olympic Games makes Smith one of only three men in history to coach teams to that troika of an NCAA title, NIT championship and Olympic victory. The others are Newell and Knight.

Smith's coaching skills and dedication to playing with class are the reasons he was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass., in 1983. He was also inducted into the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame in 1981.

Among Smith's many innovations were the Four Corners offense, crediting the passer, the run-and-jump defense, the scramble defense out of man-to-man pressure, the point zone, team huddles at the foul line, double-teaming the screen-and-roll, the freelance passing game and multiple screens against zone defenses.

Born February 28, 1931, in Emporia, Kan., Dean Edwards Smith grew up as the son of public school teachers. He graduated from Topeka High School in 1949 and went to the University of Kansas on an academic scholarship. He played varsity basketball and baseball and freshman football for the Jayhawks. He was a member of Jayhawk basketball teams that won the NCAA title in 1952 and finished second in 1953.

Smith was an assistant coach at Kansas to Phog Allen and Dick Harp, then served in the U.S. Air Force as a lieutenant. While in the service, he played and coached basketball in Germany. Smith served for three years as an assistant basketball coach under Bob Spear, recognized by his peers as one of the outstanding coaches in the history of the game, and one year each as head baseball and head golf coach at the United States Air Force Academy. In 1958, the late Frank McGuire asked him to join his staff at Carolina as an assistant coach. Smith served as an assistant under McGuire for three years before McGuire resigned to become head coach of the NBA's Philadelphia Warriors in the summer of 1961. At that time, Carolina Chancellor William Aycock tapped the 30-year-old Smith to become UNC's head coach.

Smith shared his knowledge of the game with a talented group of assistants. Many of his assistants went on to head coaching jobs, including Larry Brown, Roy Williams, John Lotz, Kenny Rosemond, Eddie Fogler, Randy Wiel and Bill Guthridge.

In Smith's 36-year tenure, more than 50 of his players went on to play pro basketball in the NBA or ABA and more played in other professional leagues both in the U.S. and overseas.

Six of Smith's players won rookie of the year awards in either the NBA or ABA, including Charles Scott, Robert McAdoo, Walter Davis, Phil Ford, Michael Jordan and Vince Carter. Jordan is regarded as perhaps the best player in NBA history.

"Coach taught me the game, when to apply speed, how to use your quickness, when to use that first step, or how to apply certain skills in certain situations," says Jordan. "Dean Smith gave me the knowledge to score 37 points a game and that's something people don't understand."

Smith coached players who went on to become doctors, lawyers and businessmen. Better than 95 percent of his lettermen earned their degrees.

Smith, who played for the legendary Phog Allen at Kansas in the early 1950s, is one of only two men to both play on and coach an NCAA championship team. Smith was a member of the Jayhawk squad that won college basketball's top prize in 1952. He then coached the Tar Heels to national titles in 1982 and 1993. Bob Knight is the other person to accomplish the feat. Knight played on Ohio State's 1960 championship team and then coached Indiana to three titles.

After taking Carolina to the NCAA championship game in 1977, Smith was named National Coach of the Year by the NABC. He received similar honors from the U.S. Basketball Writers Association and Basketball Weekly in 1979 and from Medalist in 1982. He was named the Naismith National Coach of the Year in 1993 after leading the Tar Heels to the national crown.

In 1993, the Atlantic Coast Sportswriters Association named Smith the ACC Coach of the Year, an honor he received on seven previous occasions as well—1967, 1968, 1971, 1976, 1977, 1979 and 1988.

Carolina won the 1982 ACC title over Ralph Sampson and Virginia.

Frank McGuire's eventual national champions ran the table in the regular season, winning all 14 games. That year marked the first time UNC reached the conference tournament final since the 1947 Southern Conference Tournament. The Tar Heels held off Wake Forest, 61-59, in the semifinal and defeated South Carolina by 20 to earn their first ACC championship. In the semifinal, Wake Forest took a one-point lead with less than a minute to play, but National Player of the Year Lennie Rosenbluth hit a hook shot from the circle and a free throw for a three-point play and the win.

Rosenbluth made 8 of 11 shots from the floor in the championship, scored 38 points and was named MVP.

The Tournament moved to the Greensboro Coliseum for the first time and was the site of Dean Smith's first title. Fittingly, Carolina won the title by sweeping its in-state rivals, beating NC State by three points, Wake Forest by 10 and Duke by nine in the title match. Larry Miller was selected MVP after scoring 25.7 points and grabbing 8.3 rebounds per game. Bob Lewis (18.0 points, 5.0 rebounds) joined Miller on the first-team all-tournament squad.

The Tournament moved again in 1968 for the first year of a three-year stay in Charlotte. UNC's semifinal game against South Carolina was a fierce battle. The Gamecocks sent the game into overtime with an 18-4 run to tie the score at 74. The Tar Heels came from behind in overtime and won on baskets by Grubar and Gerald Tuttle.

In the championship, Carolina led NC State by only five at the half, but the final tally was a lopsided 87-50 victory. Miller (25.3 points, 8.7 rebounds) became the second player ever (Len Chappell of Wake Forest) to repeat as MVP. Grubar (13.3 points, 4.7 rebounds) was also a first-team selection.

The 37-point margin of victory is the largest in championship game history.

Carolina entered as the No. 1 seed for the third year in a row. Carolina's Charles Scott battled Wake's Charlie Davis in the semifinals. Davis won the first half, as the Deacons led 37-29 at intermission. Scott took over in the second stanza, enabling UNC to win, 80-72. Scott and Grubar led the Tar Heels with 23 points apiece.

Carolina and Duke squared off in the championship game. The Blue Devils led by nine at halftime and the Tar Heels lost Grubar to a first-half knee injury. The second half featured one of the most memorable performances in ACC history as Scott scored 25 of his game-high 40 points on 12 of 13 shooting. Carolina won its third straight ACC title, 85-74, and Scott earned MVP honors.

South Carolina's departure from the ACC left only seven teams, and Carolina received a bye into the semifinal against Duke. Four Tar Heels scored in double figures, led by Bobby Jones, who carded a double-double (14 points, 11 rebounds) as the Tar Heels won, 63-48.

Carolina was in the championship game for the fifth time in six years. Maryland was in the finals for the first time since 1958. Robert McAdoo (15 points, 7.5 rebounds per game) became the fifth Tar Heel in six years to earn the MVP award as Carolina held on for a 73-64 win. Dennis Wuycik (17.5 points, 5 rebounds) and George Karl (13 points, 2.5 rebounds) joined McAdoo on the all-tournament first team.

The Tar Heels trailed Wake Forest in the quarterfinal by eight points with 50 seconds left. Freshman point guard Phil Ford (44 seconds to play), Mitch Kupchak (36 seconds), Walter Davis (30 seconds) and Brad Hoffman (two seconds) hit jump shots and the Deacs missed a pair of free throws to force overtime. In the extra session with the game tied at 96 Carolina took possession with 58 seconds to play. UNC went Four Corners and drew a technical against Wake Forest with 29 seconds to play for not forcing UNC to take action. Ford hit the free throw and another free throw six seconds later as Carolina triumphed, 101-100. Davis (31 points, 12 rebounds), Kupchak (16 points, 14 rebounds) and Ford (25 points) led the Tar Heels.

Clemson came back from 11 down at the half to force overtime in the semifinals. A tip-in by Kupchak gave Carolina an overtime lead it would not relinquish. Ford led UNC with 29, making 15 of 18 from the free throw line.

Ford was outstanding in the championship game against defending NCAA champion NC State. Carolina took the lead, 56-55, on a jumper by Davis with nine minutes left and then went into its delay offense. Ford hit two baskets in the next two and one-half minutes, and NC State did not score during a 5:18 stretch, leading to a 70-66 Tar Heel victory. Ford (26 points per game) was the MVP and was joined on the first-team by Kupchak (13.7 points, 13.7 rebounds). Davis netted 19 points and grabbed 7.7 rebounds over the three games.

No. 1 seed Carolina met No. 7 Virginia in the finals in a rematch of the 1976 final won by the Cavaliers. Ford scored 19 points in the first half, but the Cavaliers led by one at the break. Virginia led 64-56 with 7:08 remaining, but over the next 5:03 the Tar Heels outscored the Wahoos, 15-1. Freshman Mike O'Koren and John Kuester led the final charge after Ford fouled out with 5:45 to play and Virginia still holding a 64-61 advantage. A layup by Bruce Buckley with 3:37 to play broke a 67-all tie and gave UNC the lead for good. Kuester's take-charge attitude and perfect free throw shooting earned him MVP honors after the Tar Heel title.

Duke defeated UNC in the final game of the regular season to share the regular-season title, but the Tar Heels won the draw for the tournament's top seed and first-round bye. Carolina defeated Maryland, 102-79, in the semifinals, as five Tar Heels scored in double figures. Al Wood led with 19 points on 8 of 10 shooting.

Carolina beat Duke in the finals, 71-63. Dudley Bradley scored 16 points with seven steals and four assists and earned MVP honors. O'Koren had 18 points and eight rebounds and was 10 for 11 from the free throw line. The Tar Heels turned the ball over just seven times and forced 14 Duke miscues. O'Koren and Dave Colescott, who averaged 15 and 12.5 points per game in the tournament, respectively, also were first-team selections.

UNC beat Wake Forest, 58-57, in one semifinal as Mike Pepper nailed a 16-foot jumper with eight seconds to play. Sam Perkins scored 18 points and pulled down 15 rebounds and James Worthy added 12 points and 11 rebounds. The Deacons led 53-46 but Pepper and Perkins each hit two baskets. The second basket by Perkins gave UNC a 56-55 lead with 4:12 to play. Alvis Rogers hit an 11-foot jumper to give Wake the lead back with 1:30 to play, but Pepper hit the game-winner with eight seconds to go.

Carolina and Maryland met in the final in the Capital Centre in Landover, Md. The game was tied seven times in the second half, but the Tar Heels went ahead for good with 2:53 to play on a Jimmy Black steal and lay-up. Wood scored twice in the final two minutes to secure a 61-60 triumph.

Perkins (17.7 points, 8.3 rebounds) became just the second freshman ever, and first since Ford, to be named MVP. Worthy (13 points, 7.7 rebounds) joined Perkins as a first-team all-tournament selection.

No. 1-ranked Carolina led No. 2 Virginia, 34-31, at halftime behind Worthy's 16 points. Michael Jordan scored four of the Tar Heels' first five field goals in the second half. His fourth straight field goal, with 8:44 to play, was Carolina's last of the game. Leading 44-43 with 7:34 remaining, Carolina spread the floor and held the ball. Virginia fouled six times over the next 7:06, finally putting Matt Doherty on the foul line for 1-and-1 with 28 seconds left. Doherty hit the first for a two-point edge. Virginia turned the ball over with three seconds to play. Doherty hit two free throws and Ralph Sampson had an uncontested dunk with one second left as Carolina prevailed, 47-45. The field goal by Sampson was the first by the Cavaliers since the 7:34 mark.

kins (9.7 points, 7.3 rebounds) and Jordan (11.7 points, 3 rebounds) were named to the first-team all-tournament team, and Worthy was named MVP.

Carolina breezed to the championship game, recording a 15-point win over Georgia Tech and a 30-point rout of eighth-seeded Maryland, which had knocked off No. 1 seed NC State.

The 1989 ACC championship game was one of the most memorable and intense meetings ever between Carolina and Duke. Both teams had won regular-season games on the other's home floor.

Stifling defense by both teams led to 44 turnovers, 26 of which the Tar Heels committed. J.R. Reid had 14 points and nine rebounds and Steve Bucknall had 10 points and five assists to lead UNC. The game was tied five times in the second half and Duke led just once, with 5:28 to play. Bucknall hit a driving basket and free throw with 1:46 remaining to break a 66-all tie. Bucknall and King Rice both went 4 for 4 from the line to clinch the win.

Reid (16.0 points, 8.0 rebounds per game) won MVP honors. Senior point guard Jeff Lebo (10.7 points, 3.0 assists) joined him on the first-team.

After hard-fought victories over Clemson and Virginia, the Tar Heels met a Duke team in the championship game that had swept the regular-season series from UNC. Carolina raced out to a 15-4 lead and thrashed Duke, 96-74. Fox made 10 of 16 field goal attempts for 25 points and Hubert Davis netted 17. Rice had 12 points and seven assists and did not commit a turnover. Fox averaged 17.3 points and 9 rebounds over the three games and was named MVP. Davis averaged 13.7 points and hit nearly 64 percent from three-point range in the Tournament.

The win was the largest in the finals since Carolina beat NC State, 87-50, in 1968.

Carolina faced Wake Forest in the semifinal in what proved to be one of the most exciting games in ACC Tournament history. Wake Forest led, 76-70, with 2:15 to play, but Derrick Phelps helped cut the deficit to three with 11 seconds left. Phelps then made the first of two free throws and rebounded his own miss on the second. He fed Dante Calabria who drove the lane and hit a twisting bank shot with three seconds remaining for a tie at 81.

Carolina led 84-81 in overtime, but a three-pointer by Rusty LaRue tied the game with 39 seconds left. UNC freshman Jerry Stackhouse, the Tournament's MVP, hit the game-winner on a baseline drive with five seconds to play. Wake Forest guard Randolph Childress, who scored 31 points, just missed a long three-pointer as the clock expired.

Stackhouse had 14 points and seven rebounds and Eric Montross added 12 points and nine rebounds to lead Carolina past Virginia, 73-66, in the title game.

The Tar Heels lost their first three ACC regular-season games, but rallied to go 8-0 in the second half to finish tied for second place. Carolina then swept past Virginia, Wake Forest and NC State to claim its 14th Tournament title. Junior guard Shammond Williams earned MVP honors, averaging 20.0 points and 5.0 assists.

Antawn Jamison scored 24 points and grabbed 10 rebounds and point guard Ed Cota had 11 points and 10 assists in the 78-68 quarterfinal win over Virginia. Williams made eight of 11 shots, including four of seven three-pointers, in an 86-73 triumph over the Tim Duncan-led Demon Deacons in the semifinals.

In the championship game, Williams again led Carolina with 23 points, nine of which came on a trio of three-point baskets in a 2:02 span midway through the second half. Jamison added 17 points and a game-high 11 rebounds. Carolina shot 59.0 percent from the floor.

Carolina repeated as Tournament champions for the first time since 1981-82 with victories over NC State, Maryland and Duke. Those wins avenged regular-season losses against the same three opponents. Jamison injured a muscle in the overtime win over the Terrapins in the semifinal, and was questionable for Sunday's championship game. However, Jamison was relentless against the Blue Devils, sparking UNC to a 15-point win over the nation's top-ranked team with a 22-point, 18-rebound effort that ranks as one of the finest in championship game history.

Jamison had 25 points in the opening round win over the Wolfpack. The Tar Heels trailed throughout much of the second half against Maryland, but rallied behind Shammond Williams to force overtime. Williams added 10 points in the extra stanza to lead Carolina to an 83-73 triumph.

Carolina's win over Duke in the championship game was UNC's sixth in title game matchups against the Blue Devils. The game was tied at 57 with less than 11 minutes to play, but the Tar Heels reeled off the next 13 points. Carolina finished the game shooting 54.4 percent from the floor, while Duke hit on just 32.8 percent of its field goal attempts. Williams and Vince Carter had 19 and 16 points, respectively.

Carolina won its 16th ACC Tournament in 2007 in Tampa, Fla., with wins over Florida State, Boston College and NC State. Prior to 2007, the last time UNC had won both a share of the ACC regular season title and the ACC Tournament in the same season was 1982.

As the Tournament's top seed, Carolina beat No. 9 seed Florida State in the quarterfinals. Wayne Ellington scored 18 points to lead four double-figure scorers in the win over the Seminoles. Brandan Wright scored 20 points to lead the top-seeded Tar Heels to a 71-56 win over No. 4 seed Boston College in the semifinals.

All five Tar Heel starters scored in double figures as Carolina beat NC State, 89-80, in the final. Reyshawn Terry scored eight consecutive points in a late-game stretch to capture the win.

Wright was named MVP, becoming the fifth freshman and fourth Tar Heel freshman to do so. Wright joined UNC's Phil Ford (1978), Sam Perkins (1981) and Jerry Stackhouse (1994) and Duke's Jason Williams (2000) as those to accomplish the feat. Wright, Ellington and Ty Lawson made the All-ACC Tournament team, the first time three freshmen from the same team ever earned that honor.

Carolina beat Florida State, Virginia Tech and Clemson to win the 2008 ACC title, its second in a row and an ACC-record 17th overall. The Tar Heels have won back-to-back ACC Tournament titles five times — 1967-68, 1968-69, 1981-82, 1997-98 and 2007-08.

Tyler Hansbrough, Wayne Ellington and Marcus Ginyard were named to the ACC All-Tournament First Team.

Virginia Tech led most of the game in the semifinals. Ellington hit a pair of three-pointers late to tie the game before Hansbrough hit a baseline jump shot with 0.8 seconds left for a 68-66 win. Ellington made 10 of 13 shots from the floor and had 24 points in the championship game win over Clemson.

Hansbrough had 26 points and nine rebounds against the Hokies and 18 points and 11 rebounds in the finals to earn MVP honors.

FANTASTIC FINISHES

1957 Season

The Tar Heels had to pull out numerous close games to preserve their perfect 32-0 record and NCAA title. Win No. 17 was a 65-61 triumph over Maryland in double overtime. Tommy Kearns' free throws provided the winning margin in the 18th consecutive win, 75-73, over Duke. The Tar Heels beat Wake Forest for the fourth time in that one year in the ACC Tournament semifinals. Carolina trailed with less than a minute left, but squeaked out a 61-59 win.

Those close games were nothing compared to the drama that unfolded in the Final Four in Kansas City. The Tar Heels won back-to-back triple overtime games against Michigan State and Kansas to capture UNC's first NCAA championship. Pete Brennan's jumper against Michigan State was a key play that extended the game into the second overtime. Joe Quigg's two free throws with six seconds remaining in the third overtime gave Carolina a 54-53 win over Kansas and Wilt Chamberlain in the final. In 1999, Sports Illustrated selected the 1957 NCAA title game as its second-favorite game of all-time.

UNC 87, Davidson 85
March 15, 1969

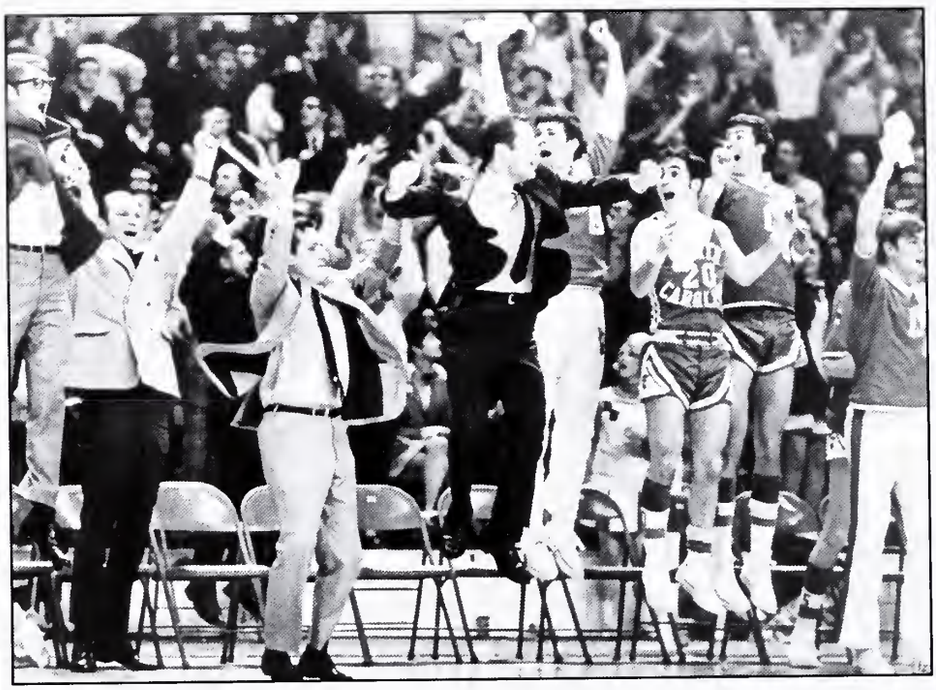
Charles Scott almost single-handedly carried the Tar Heels to victory in the NCAA East Regional final in College Park, Md. Scott connected on 10 of 14 field goal attempts in the second half. Davidson had the ball with 1:05 remaining and the score tied, 85-85, but Gerald Tuttle drew a charge for the Tar Heels. Scott hit a 20-footer with three seconds left and Carolina advanced to its third consecutive Final Four.

UNC 73, Duke 71
January 19, 1974

The Tar Heels defeated the Blue Devils on a last-second shot at Cameron Indoor Stadium. The Tar Heels rallied to tie the score and Duke had the ball at half-court with four seconds left. Bobby Jones stole the inbounds pass and hit an off-balance lay-up with one second left to give Carolina a 73-71 win.

UNC 96, Duke 92 (OT)
March 2, 1974

In one of the most famous comebacks in college basketball, the Tar Heels rallied from eight points down with 17 seconds remaining against Duke to force overtime. Trailing 86-78, Bobby Jones made both ends of a one-and-one with just 17 seconds left. John Kuester cut the deficit to four with 13 seconds to play with a lay-up after Duke threw away the inbounds pass. The Blue Devils again lost the inbounds pass and Jones cut the deficit to two on a put-back off an Ed Stahl miss. Six seconds remained. The Tar Heels fouled Pete Kramer with four seconds left, and he missed the front end of the one-and-one.



The UNC bench jumps for joy as Charles Scott hits the game-winner as time expires, giving the Tar Heels an 87-85 win over Davidson in the 1969 NCAA East Regional Final.

Stahl grabbed the rebound and called a timeout with three ticks left. Mitch Kupchak in-bounded the ball to Walter Davis, who launched a 25-foot shot as time expired. The shot banked off the glass to tie the score at 86-86. Carmichael Auditorium erupted and Carolina went on to win 96-92 in overtime.

UNC 101, Wake Forest 100 (OT)
March 6, 1975

Carolina trailed Wake Forest, 90-82, with 50 seconds remaining in the ACC quarterfinals. Phil Ford hit a 20-footer with 43 ticks left and Mitch Kupchak followed a Deacon turnover with a driving layup with 34 seconds to play. Wake Forest's inbounds pass grazed the scoreboard, turning the ball back to Carolina. Walter Davis scored to make it 90-88 with 29 seconds left. The Deacons failed to convert two one-and-one opportunities before Brad Hoffman drove the baseline and nailed a 12-footer to tie the game with two seconds left. The Tar Heels pulled out the 101-100 win in overtime and went on to capture the ACC title two days later.

UNC 70, NC State 69
January 17, 1979

Carolina charged out to a 40-19 halftime lead and led by 17 with 10:30 to play, but the Wolfpack got hot. Kenny Matthews hit a jumper with 32 seconds left that gave State a 69-68 lead. Dudley Bradley missed a jumper for the Tar Heels and State grabbed the rebound with 16 seconds left. Reynolds Coliseum celebrated. But Bradley stole the ball from Clyde Austin at mid-court and drove in for the game-winning dunk and a 70-69 triumph.

UNC 63, Georgetown 62
March 29, 1982

Michael Jordan hit a jumper from the left wing with 17 seconds to play to give Dean Smith his first national championship. Final Four MVP James Worthy had 28 points, but it was the freshman Jordan who took a pass from Jimmy Black and made the game-winning shot. Worthy stole an errant pass from Hoya forward Fred Brown in the final seconds to clinch the title.

UNC 70, Tulane 68 (3 OT)
November 30, 1982

John Williams made two free throws with eight seconds to play to give Tulane a 53-51 edge. Michael Jordan was whistled for an offensive foul with four seconds remaining, and it appeared the Tar Heels would start a season with three successive losses for the first time since 1928-29. However, Jordan stole the inbounds pass and hit a 24-foot prayer at the buzzer to tie the game. Carolina prevailed, 70-68, in triple overtime.

Walter Davis (No. 24) capped a furious, eight-point comeback in the final 17 seconds of regulation with this 25-foot shot at the buzzer on March 2, 1974. Carolina went on to defeat Duke, 96-92, in overtime.

UNC 64, Virginia 63
February 10, 1983

Carolina trailed second-ranked Virginia by 16 points in the second half and was down 63-53 with 4:12 remaining. Jimmy Braddock hit a three-pointer and Matt Doherty and Sam Perkins each converted one-and-ones to close the gap to 63-60 with 2:54 remaining. Virginia held the ball and Perkins was forced to foul Ralph Sampson with 1:20 left. The All-America center missed the front end of his one-and-one. Braddock missed a three-pointer, but Michael Jordan was there to put in the rebound. As Rick Carlisle dribbled up-court, Jordan stole the ball and slammed it home for a 64-63 Tar Heel lead. Carlisle missed a last-second shot and Jordan grabbed the rebound in front of a delirious Carmichael crowd.

UNC 75, Maryland 74
January 9, 1985

Lefty Driesell's Maryland Terrapins seemed poised to knock off Carolina at Carmichael Auditorium. The Terps led 72-69 with 23 seconds left and Keith Gatlin on the line for a one-and-one. The 83 percent foul shooter missed the front end and UNC's Kenny Smith sank a jump shot with 16 seconds left. Adrian Branch, a 78 percent free-throw shooter, also missed. Dave Popson provided the winning points with a high-arcing jumper with nine seconds to play. Curtis Hunter's steal and free throws secured the win.

UNC 60, Notre Dame 58
March 16, 1985

In the second round of the NCAA Tournament, the higher-seeded Tar Heels had to play at Notre Dame. Tied at 58 with 1:38 left, the Irish held for the last shot. Irish point guard David Rivers lost control of the ball, enabling Curtis Hunter to scoop it up and make a lead pass to Kenny Smith. Smith slammed it home, then stole the inbounds pass to seal the win.

UNC 96, Syracuse 93 (OT)
November 21, 1987

Undermanned Carolina faced top-ranked Syracuse in the Hall of Fame Tip-Off Classic and the Orange led by 14 with 15:39 to play. Carolina stormed back and sent the game into overtime when freshman Pete Chilcutt hit a turnaround jumper at the horn to tie the game at 85.

UNC 80, James Madison 79
November 24, 1989

The Tar Heels trailed Lefty Driesell's Dukes, 79-70, with less than a minute to play in the Maui Classic. An offensive rebound basket by Rick Fox and a steal and three-pointer by Hubert Davis cut the deficit to four with 48 seconds to play. Pete Chilcutt hit a three to pull within one with 10 ticks remaining. The Tar Heels had one last chance after a JMU player stepped out of bounds and King Rice tossed an off-balance runner from the top of the key that banked in at the buzzer.

UNC 79, Oklahoma 77
March 17, 1990

The Tar Heels trailed No. 1 ranked Oklahoma, 74-73, with 55 seconds to play when Rick Fox nailed a three-pointer from 25 feet away. The Sooners answered with a conventional three-point play and led, 77-76, but King Rice was fouled with 10 seconds left. Rice hit the first shot, but missed the second. The rebound went out-of-bounds to Carolina with eight seconds to play. Fox hit a driving bank shot off the glass as time expired that gave the Tar Heels a 79-77 win and a 10th consecutive trip to the Sweet 16.

UNC 80, Wake Forest 78
February 8, 1992

Just three days after knocking off No. 1 Duke, Carolina rallied from 22 points behind to defeat Wake Forest, 80-78, on Brian Reese's jumper at the buzzer. The comeback was the largest in Tar Heel history. UNC trailed by 20 with 14:49 to play and by 11 with 6:17 to go before a 10-0 run cut the Deacs lead to 75-74. Pat Sullivan tied the game at 78 with a pair of free throws with 38 seconds left. Reese set up the final possession with a steal with 16 seconds to go. He drove the lane and missed, but grabbed his own rebound and launched a 12-footer at the buzzer for the win.

UNC 82, Florida State 77
January 27, 1993

The Seminoles jumped out to a 45-28 advantage at the half and later extended the lead to as many as 21 points. Carolina trailed 73-54 with less than nine minutes to play. The Tar Heels, keyed by a pair of three-pointers by Henrik Rodl, then ran off 15 straight points and Eric Montross hit a jump hook with 1:59 left to cut the FSU lead to 77-76. George Lynch stole a crosscourt pass by Charlie Ward and slammed the ball home to give Carolina a 78-77 lead. Clutch foul shooting by Donald Williams sealed the 82-77 victory. The Tar Heels outscored the Seminoles 28-4 over the last nine minutes.

1993 NCAA Tournament

In the run to the national championship, the Tar Heels had to overcome double-digit deficits on three different occasions. Carolina trailed Arkansas, 25-14, more than 10 minutes into the first half of the East Regional semifinal. Sparked by George Lynch and Donald Williams, the Tar Heels went on a 14-3 run to tie the game at 28. Carolina fell behind 38-31 before knotting the score at 45 at halftime and eventually prevailing 80-74.

The Tar Heels trailed Cincinnati 29-14 in the regional final with less than seven minutes remaining in the first half. The Bearcats' Nick Van Exel hit his sixth three-pointer of the half with 4:50 remaining to chalk up his 21st point and a 33-20 lead. Led by Derrick Phelps' defense, Carolina cut the deficit to one by halftime, held Van Exel to only two points in the final 20 minutes and pulled out a 75-68 overtime win.

The Tar Heels fell behind Michigan, 23-13, in the national championship game. Carolina went on a 12-2 run to tie the game, capped off by a three-pointer by Donald Williams. Carolina took a 42-36 halftime lead and went on to win the title, 77-71. Williams finished with 25 points and hit four free throws in the final minutes to secure the win.

UNC 86, Wake Forest 84 (OT)
March 12, 1994

The Tar Heels erased a five-point deficit in the final 1:15 of regulation to down the Demon Deacons, 86-84, in overtime in the ACC semifinals. Leading 81-78, Wake Forest chose to foul Derrick Phelps with 11.8 seconds left. Phelps made the first free throw and missed the second, but grabbed the rebound. He found Dante Calabria, whose baseline drive and basket with 3.8 ticks left tied the score at 81. Freshman Jerry Stackhouse took a pass from Phelps and hit a driving shot to win the game, 86-84. Carolina went on to win its 13th ACC title the next day with a 73-66 victory over Virginia.

UNC 62, Wake Forest 61
January 28, 1995

Winston-Salem was the stage for a battle between sophomore centers Rasheed Wallace and Tim Duncan. Duncan had 18 points, 17 rebounds and seven blocks, and Wallace countered with 17 points, 10 rebounds and three blocks. Carolina trailed Wake Forest 53-43 with 6:39 left. Strong inside play from Wallace and the three-point shooting of Jeff McInnis and Donald Williams brought UNC to within one at 61-60. Williams then hit a running one-hander from the right side of the lane with 5.5 seconds remaining for a 62-61 win.

UNC 102, Duke 100 (2 OT)
February 2, 1995

The Tar Heels jumped out to a 26-9 lead on a spectacular reverse dunk by Jerry Stackhouse over two Blue Devils. Duke pulled within five at halftime and led by as many as 12 in the second half. UNC battled back from a nine-point deficit with 6:18 remaining to force overtime. The Tar Heels led by nine, but Duke made three three-pointers, including a 30-footer from Jeff Capel at the buzzer, to knot the score at 95 and force a second overtime. Donald Williams hit a pair of 12-footers in the second OT and Jeff McInnis had a steal and lay-up with under a minute to play to give Carolina a 102-100 win. Stackhouse and Rasheed Wallace each had 25 points and Williams added 24 in one of the greatest college basketball games ever played.

UNC 73, Duke 72
January 31, 1996

The Blue Devils' lead was three when Ademola Okulaja grabbed an offensive rebound and scored to make it 69-68 with 1:55 to go. Steve Wojciechowski hit a three-pointer for a 72-68 Duke lead with 1:13 to play, but Shammond Williams countered with a three of his own 15 seconds later. Duke turned the ball over and the Tar Heels nearly returned the favor, but Williams forced a jump ball after a scramble. Possession favored UNC and Jeff McInnis drove into the lane and fed Serge Zwikker, whose shot was blocked by Greg Newton. Dante Calabria tipped the loose ball in for a 73-72 lead. Duke had one final chance to win, but Ricky Price's baseline jumper at the buzzer hit the front of the rim.

UNC 59, NC State 56
January 15, 1997

The Tar Heels began ACC play with three straight losses for the first time in history. Carolina led 36-28 at halftime, but did not score a field goal in the second half until the 8:09 mark and had just two baskets in the first 18 minutes of the second stanza. The Wolfpack led 56-47 with 2:00 to play, but the Tar Heels went on a 12-0 run to finish the game. Antawn Jamison began the rally by forcing a steal and Shammond Williams hit a lay-up to pull within seven. Williams hit a three-pointer and Jamison added a lay-up to pull within two points with 50 seconds to play. Trailing by one with 28 seconds left, Carolina fouled and State missed the front end of a one-and-one. The Tar Heels went ahead for good with 12 seconds to play as Ademola Okulaja fed Jamison on the low block for a lay-up. Vince Carter stole the inbounds pass after the go-ahead score to secure the win.

UNC 45, NC State 44
February 12, 1997

This was the lowest scoring output in a win during Dean Smith's 36 years as head coach. The Tar Heels trailed 28-19 at the half, but pulled within 42-41 with 7:25 to play. Neither team scored until a Damon Thornton basket with 2:03 left gave State a 44-41 advantage. Serge Zwikker scored for UNC to make it 44-43. With 12.3 seconds to play, Antawn Jamison forced a turnover and freshman point guard Ed Cota drove to the left baseline and lofted a floater which found the net with 4.5 seconds remaining. Vince Carter blocked State's last shot at the buzzer to clinch the victory.

UNC 107, Ga. Tech 100 (2 OT)
February 8, 1998

The Tar Heels let a seven-point lead slip away in the final minute of regulation, but Shammond Williams put on an awesome three-point shooting display as Carolina prevailed, 107-100, in double-overtime in Atlanta. Williams forced a second overtime with a pair of free throws with six seconds left in the first extra period. In the second OT, Williams scored 12 of his career-high 42 points, including two three-pointers.

UNC 74, Tennessee 69
March 24, 2000

Carolina was unranked for the first time in 10 years and entered the NCAA Tournament as the No. 8 seed. The Tar Heels trailed 10th-ranked Tennessee, 39-36, at halftime of the regional semifinal. The Vols led by two when UNC center Brendan Haywood fouled out with 8:03 left and led, 64-57, with 4:48 to play. But freshman Joseph Forte hit a three-pointer and Jason Capel had a steal and lay-up to make it 64-62 with 3:41 left. Ed Cota tied the game on a driving lay-up and followed with a jumper to give UNC the lead with 1:59 left. Forte, Julius Peppers and Cota each hit two free throws in the final 0:34 to cap a 15-3 Tar Heel run and a 74-69 win.

UNC 70, Wake Forest 69
January 6, 2001

Brendan Haywood grabbed a loose ball in the lane and scored with 3.3 seconds to play to give the Tar Heels the win over No. 4-ranked and previously undefeated Wake Forest. Haywood finished with 24 points and 10 rebounds. His basket marked the fourth lead change in the final 1:22.

UNC 85, Duke 83
February 1, 2001

Joseph Forte had 24 points, 16 rebounds (a UNC record for guards), six assists and three steals. The Tar Heels blistered the Cameron Indoor Stadium nets by shooting 51.5 percent from the floor. Carolina led by as many as 13 in the first half, but Duke took the lead midway through the second half. Ronald Curry scored six straight points in 48 seconds to give the Tar Heels a 63-59 lead. UNC later built a seven-point lead, but the Blue Devils tied the score with three seconds left. On the ensuing inbounds play, Shane Battier fouled Brendan Haywood and the UNC seven-footer hit both free throws with one second left for the win.

UNC 86, Connecticut 83
January 17, 2004

Rashad McCants scored 27 points against the Huskies for the second straight year and for the second year in a row the Tar Heels upset Connecticut in the Smith Center. McCants scored the last 10 points of the game for Carolina, including a three-pointer with just over six seconds to play. The Huskies would go on to win the national championship. It was Roy Williams' first win as UNC's head coach over a No. 1 ranked team.

UNC 75, Duke 73
March 6, 2005

Carolina trailed, 73-64, after Blue Devil forward Lee Melchionni hit a three with 3:03 to play. But the Tar Heels outscored Duke, 11-0, the rest of the way to clinch the regular-season ACC title. Trailing by two with less than 30 seconds to play, David Noel stripped Daniel Ewing of the ball and Raymond Felton grabbed the loose ball and called timeout. On the ensuing possession, Felton hit the first of two free throws. Marvin Williams rebounded his missed second free throw and scored the go-ahead basket with 17 seconds to play. Sean May led UNC with 26 points and 24 rebounds.

Final Four MVP Sean May led UNC with 26 points and 10 rebounds, while Raymond Felton's and Marvin Williams' late heroics gave Roy Williams his first NCAA title. Marvin Williams broke a 70-all tie with a tip-in basket with 1:27 to play. Leading 72-70, Felton, who earlier hit a three-pointer to break a 65-65 tie, stole an Illini pass with 31 seconds to play and hit three of four free throws to cap the win.

UNC vs. Clemson
2007-08 Regular Season

Carolina beat Clemson in a pair of close games during the 2007-08 regular season. In the first meeting on Jan. 6, 2008, in Clemson, Wayne Ellington hit a three-pointer with 0.4 seconds remaining in overtime to give UNC a 90-88 win. Ellington scored a career-high 36 points in the game, connecting on five three-pointers. The final shot by Ellington marked UNC's first late game-winner since David Noel rattled in a three-pointer with 1.8 seconds left on Nov. 19, 2005, to beat Gardner-Webb in the Smith Center and marked Carolina's first overtime win under head coach Roy Williams.

In the return matchup in Chapel Hill on Feb. 10, Tyler Hansbrough scored 13 of his 39 points in the two overtime periods as Carolina rallied from 15 points down to beat the Tigers, 103-93, in double overtime. The Tar Heels trailed by 11 points with 3:12 left to play in regulation before scoring nine straight points to cut the lead to 79-77. Quentin Thomas hit a driving layup to force the first overtime and UNC eventually won in the second extra stanza.

Jan. 28, 2009

Ty Lawson sank a game-winning three-pointer as time expired to beat Florida State, 80-77, in Tallahassee in a game in which UNC led by 11 at the half, but trailed by as many as five with less than seven minutes to play. Danny Green's steal and three-point play tied the game at 77 with 1:12 to play, then Tyler Hansbrough forced a turnover by Toney Douglas with 3.2 seconds remaining. Hansbrough inbounded the ball to Lawson, who raced from his own free throw line to just outside the top of the key before launching a floater that found the bottom of the net as the buzzer rang.

NBA LEGACY

TAR HEELS EXCEL AT THE NEXT LEVEL

Michael Jordan

"UNC is a plus-four school, meaning that if I rate a player as the 10th-best player in the NBA Draft, being a Tar Heel automatically jumps him to number six. The plus-four rating is based upon the success of former Tar Heels in the NBA."

– John Gabriel, New York Knicks Scouting Director

John Kuester

"The game is played so fast at this level. That's why I feel like Coach Williams and Carolina did a great job of preparing me for the NBA. I'm more advanced than other rookies and my coaching staff has said they recognize that. That's made the transition much easier. I have a better understanding of the game, the right way to play it and how to win. That's allowed me to play more minutes early and be pretty successful."

"When you play at Carolina, you learn how to cater your game to the style the team is playing or to certain lineups. That's why a lot of general managers and owners like drafting Carolina players. They know we've had to carry the equipment and carry the bags. It's not all about you. You've been reminded that this game is a blessing."

"When it comes to impact on the NBA, one program clearly stands apart from the rest. Two schools, North Carolina and UCLA, have developed the most quality NBA talent over the span of the 60 years of league history, and over the last 25 years the Tar Heels have left the Bruins far behind. Carolina has had more first round draft picks than any other program. Those draft picks have gone on to consistently meet or beat expectations for their performance in the NBA. As icing on the cake, Carolina has also had more former players develop into winning NBA coaches than any other college program, and in this regard there is not even a close second."

CAROLINA IN THE AP POLL

Sally Sather

The 1981-82 team spent 11 weeks at No. 1, topping the preseason and final polls and winning the NCAA championship.

CAROLINA AND THE AP POLL

◆ Since the inception of the Associated Press poll prior to the 1948-49 season, Carolina basketball has been a fixture in the rankings of the nation's elite. The Tar Heels have been ranked in the AP poll 772 times, more than any school in the nation.

◆ Carolina has been ranked in the top 10 of the AP poll for 598 weeks, most in ACC history.

◆ The Tar Heels have achieved a top-10 ranking in the AP poll for at least one week in 48 of the poll's 62 seasons, including 42 of the last 44.

◆ Carolina has finished in the top 10 of the AP poll 32 times, including 21 of the last 30 years.

THE TAR HEELS AND THE NO. 1 RANKING IN THE AP POLL

◆ The March 9, 2009, poll was the 105th in which the Tar Heels were No. 1 in the AP rankings. That is third-best all-time behind UCLA (134) and Duke (111).

◆ Carolina has an all-time record of 180-30 as the No. 1 team in the AP poll.

◆ UNC, which was the first-ever unanimous preseason No. 1 in the AP poll in 2008-09, also took the top spot in the preseason AP poll in 2007-08. UNLV (1989-90 and 1990-91) is the only other school to be ranked preseason No. 1 in back-to-back campaigns.

◆ The Tar Heels in 2008-09 were the first unanimous preseason No. 1 pick by the AP since the preseason poll began in 1981-82.

◆ Carolina has been ranked No. 1 in the final AP poll six times — in 2007-08, 1997-98, 1993-94, 1983-84, 1981-82 and 1956-57.

◆ Prior to UNC in 2008-09, the last time a school began No. 1 in the preseason AP poll after finishing No. 1 in the previous season's final AP poll was Duke (No. 1 in the final AP poll of 2000-01 and No. 1 in the preseason AP poll of 2001-02).

◆ The 2008-09 preseason AP poll also marked Carolina's record sixth time atop the preseason rankings, most of any school in the nation. Duke is second with five. UNC was also No. 1 in the initial AP poll in 1981-82, 1983-84, 1986-87, 1993-94 and 2007-08.

◆ The Tar Heels have spent a combined 23 weeks ranked No. 1 in the AP poll over the past three seasons—and had spent a combined 22 weeks ranked No. 1 in the AP poll in the 14 seasons prior to that.

◆ Carolina has been ranked No. 1 in the AP poll in three of the last four seasons and eight of the last 18 campaigns.

◆ The No. 1 ranking in 2008-09 marked the 18th different season in which the Tar Heels have reached the No. 1 spot in at least one AP poll. Carolina has been ranked No. 1 by the AP in the following seasons: 1956-57, 1957-58, 1958-59, 1977-78, 1981-82, 1982-83, 1983-84, 1985-86, 1986-87, 1987-88, 1992-93, 1993-94, 1994-95, 1997-98, 2000-01, 2006-07, 2007-08 and 2008-09.

◆ The 2008-09 campaign was the 10th season in 22 years as a head coach that Roy Williams has guided his team to No. 1 in the AP poll for at least one week.

◆ Williams has a 42-5 record as head coach at Carolina in 24 weeks as the No. 1 team in the AP poll

◆ Prior to 2007-08 and 2008-09, Williams-led teams had never captured the top spot in the preseason AP poll. Kansas was never preseason No. 1 by the AP during Williams' tenure.

◆ Carolina has defeated the No. 1 team in the AP poll 12 times, most in NCAA history.

All requests for interviews must be made through the athletic communications office. Contact Kirschner with interview requests for Roy Williams or to attend practice. Throughout the season Williams holds regular press conferences at the Smith Center. These typically begin at 2 p.m. and parking is located in the Manning Lot off Tar Heel Boulevard. Out-of-town media may watch the press conference live at TarHeelBlue.com and ask questions by contacting Kirschner or Matt Bowers in advance. Due to contractual obligations, Coach Williams is unavailable to participate in live radio call-in shows.

Media should make player interview requests to Matt Bowers. Player interviews occur before practice. Newcomers are available to the media once they've played in a regular-season game.

Players are not available for interviews on game day or on non-practice days. Players will not participate in radio call-in shows, but are available to tape radio interviews.

POSTGAME PRESS CONFERENCES

Players are available in the lounge adjacent to the locker room for 20 minutes following each home game. Coach Williams holds his postgame press conference in the media room.
